

The Perry Family

Building on Faith 2008

“My kids and I are living out of one room in a relative’s house. The house is very old and needs electrical and foundation repairs. My little angels need their space in a safe environment. I heard about Habitat through a friend and thought I would apply. Once I received the wonderful news that I was approved for a home I was overjoyed. Owning a home will make a great difference in our lives. Now my children will have a sense of security and stability. Habitat is a wonderful program they make dreams come true. What I once thought was financially impossible as a single parent is not, thank you Habitat.”

Li Perry and her children

Jaidan, age 6, and Marcus, age 3.

Li Perry has worked for Countrywide Financial for the past three years as an Investor Certification Technician.

The Perry family, Habitat for Humanity, along with sponsors and volunteers will build in partnership during Building on Faith, 2008.
